

Measuring the difference we make

We will use the Scottish Government's National Performance Framework to demonstrate that the Scottish Funding Council – through its strategies and investment in colleges and universities – is making a measurable difference to the Scottish economy and, more widely, to social and cultural prosperity.

We will work with the Scottish Government and our other partners in the first year of this Plan to develop and publish a comprehensive performance measurement framework that will allow us to assess the effectiveness of the Plan over time.

Scotland's colleges and universities, through the courses they provide, and through their research and knowledge exchange, make contributions to all of the National Outcomes as is shown in the chart on page 56.

We have worked with Scottish Government and other major non-departmental public bodies in Scotland to identify how our contributions can complement each other in support of the National Outcomes. These shared contributions are set out in the table on the next page.
